

WASHINGTON.

Herbert Eaton is reported out of danger, and is gaining as fast as could be expected. The fourth bullet has been removed from his head and the doctor expects soon to remove the fifth and last ball.

An adjourned meeting of those interested in the Creamery was held in the Grand Jury room, Machias, Tuesday, April 17th. Mr. Geo. W. Drisco, who went to Massachusetts to investigate the matter, made a very full report, giving facts and figures as to the cost of building, machinery, churns, etc. The committee on location reported that they had not been able to find a location, but as steam will probably be used for power there will be no trouble in finding a place to put up the factory. The committee on number of cows, reported about 1000 in Machias and adjoining towns. The capital stock was fixed at $2,000 divided into shares of $10 each.

The Eastport Sentinel says the sardine factories have had an unusual good run of fish during the past week for this season of the year. Such a run of fish was not expected by the fishermen and many of the weirs had not been repaired or rebuilt, as they have to be every spring, but work on them is being rapidly pushed forward now. There seems to be a scarcity of girls to work in the factories this spring, some of the factories having only half packers enough. Good packers make good wages at this business.

The Sentinel says the Frontier Guards Company and team shoot came off Thursday and twenty-five members of the Guards contested for the medals. Captain Nutt carried off the gold medal in the team shooting and Captain Flagg's team won the two framed pictures, which have been presented to the company and hung up in their armory. The two silver company medals competed for by those who had not shot before in company matches, were won by Fred Ferris and John W. Whalen.

Herbert W. Eaton is still at Truro, under the care of the doctors. He desired to leave there last Monday, with his brother, but a telegram from the city marshal announced that he had a bad Sunday, and the doctors thought it very imprudent to attempt moving him. The grand jury will investigate his case, at this term of court as to whether he is able to stand a trial or not. There seems to be no doubt that he is anxious to get back and have his fate decided, and the officers in charge, and the doctors agree in this statement.
